Background

M&T Bank Corporation (“M&T”) and its wholly owned bank subsidiaries, M&T Bank and Wilmington Trust, National Association (“Wilmington Trust, N.A.”), are required to comply with applicable capital adequacy standards established by the federal banking agencies.

In July 2013, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation approved final rules establishing a new comprehensive capital framework for U.S. banking organizations. Those regulatory capital standards substantially revised the risk-based capital requirements applicable to bank holding companies and their depository institution subsidiaries, including the definitions and the components of regulatory capital, the determination of risk-weighted assets, and other matters affecting banking institutions’ regulatory capital ratios.

These rules went into effect as to M&T and its subsidiary banks on January 1, 2015, subject to phase-in periods for certain components and other provisions. The regulatory capital standards apply to M&T and all of its subsidiaries, referred to collectively as “the Company,” except that each depository subsidiary is required to disclose its capital ratios.

Overview

In accordance with Pillar 3 of the regulatory capital standards, bank holding companies with total consolidated assets of $50 billion or more, including M&T, are required to provide market participants certain information regarding their capital adequacy, including a summary of information about: corporate risk management framework and governance; the internal capital adequacy assessment process; and disclosures regarding credit, counterparty, interest rate, and other specified forms of risk. M&T does not meet the criteria to be considered an advanced approaches organization and, as a result, is required to provide disclosures under the standardized approach.

The Regulatory Capital Disclosures provided within this document or in M&T’s filings noted below and referenced in Appendix A of this document are presented in compliance with Sections 61 and 63 of Regulation Q – Part 217, Public Disclosures Related to Capital Requirements. M&T’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 (“Form 10-K”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) contains management’s discussion of the overall corporate risk profile of the Company. The Pillar 3 Regulatory Capital Disclosures should be read in conjunction with Form 10-K, M&T’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2016 (“Form 10-Q”) filed with the SEC and the Consolidated Financial Statements for Bank Holding Companies – FR Y-9C for the quarter ended June 30, 2016 (“FR Y-9C”). The accompanying Pillar 3 Regulatory Capital Disclosure Cross-reference Sheet (see Appendix A) indicates where the required disclosures are located. The Pillar 3 Regulatory Capital Disclosures have not been audited by M&T’s external auditors.

Risk Management Framework and Governance

M&T's Enterprise Risk Management Framework represents the Company's overall risk management structure, including the policies, processes, controls and systems through which risk is managed on a daily basis. The Enterprise Risk Management Framework provides a common method for all employees, officers and directors to understand and communicate the types of risk that M&T faces in pursuit of its business objectives. It serves as an integral part of daily operations, business planning and capital planning, and is a foundational component of M&T's conservative risk management culture. It encompasses the significant aspects of risk management, and pertains to current and emerging risk considerations. These risks are described extensively in M&T's Form 10-K in Part I, Item 1A "Risk Factors." The major risks facing the Company and described therein include:

- Credit Risk
- Interest Rate Risk
- Liquidity Risk
- Operational Risk (including legal and fiduciary risks)
- Regulatory Compliance Risk
- Reputational Risk

Detailed discussions of the risks outlined above and other risks facing the Company are included within Form 10-K in Part 1, Item 1 "Business," and Part II, Item 7 "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations." Furthermore, Part II, Item 7 under the heading "Forward-Looking Statements" includes a description of certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions identified by management that are difficult to predict and that could materially affect the Company's financial condition and results of operations, as well as the value of the Company's financial instruments.

The Enterprise Risk Management Framework supports the identification, measurement, monitoring and reporting of material risks with appropriate governance and oversight, thereby ensuring transparency, consistency and accountability for risk throughout the enterprise and adherence to the Company's risk appetite. The Enterprise Risk Management Framework incorporates the following components.

Risk Appetite Statement

M&T's Risk Appetite Statement ("RAS") articulates the types of risks that the Company is willing to accept and those that it seeks to avoid in pursuit of its business objectives. The RAS affirms the principles by which the Company identifies itself, while providing a central guide for decision-making processes. It serves as the link between the Company's corporate values and business operations by ensuring that all directors, officers and employees share a consistent understanding of the Company's appetite for risk, further enhancing the risk identification process and providing more clarity for aligning the Company's approach to capital management with its key risk appetite metrics.

Qualitative and quantitative risk metrics monitor emerging risks and provide specific measures that are used to monitor risk-taking relative to the Company's risk appetite.

Committee Roles and Responsibilities

M&T's integrated risk governance structure begins with oversight by members of the Board of Directors through the Risk Committee of the Board of Directors. Senior management oversight of the Enterprise Risk Management Framework is provided through a risk governance structure that includes the Management Risk Committee, which oversees nine Risk Governance Committees that identify and monitor specific risks applicable to the Company's businesses. The Management Risk Committee reports directly to the Risk Committee of the Board of Directors.

Risk Management Policies and Practices

The Enterprise Risk Management Framework incorporates a culture of risk ownership within the business lines, with independent risk management functions and Internal Audit serving as additional layers of control. Front-line business and operational support areas participate in the delivery of products or services to customers, as well as related servicing and technology. They are responsible for aligning their respective business strategies with the risk appetite established by M&T. These units are responsible for identifying key risks within their operations and establishing appropriate internal controls within the units. They are also responsible for establishing business line policies, procedures and limits in accordance with the RAS and monitor performance against those limits to ensure they operate within the boundaries of their risk-taking authority. The Risk Management area and related bank-wide functions (e.g. Credit Risk Oversight, Treasury Risk Oversight, Operational Risk, Corporate Compliance, Enterprise Security, Financial Controls, etc.), that are independent from the front-line business and operational support areas, establish the enterprise-wide risk management policies, procedures, methodologies and tools, including the risk governance framework. These functions oversee the establishment of risk limits and monitor compliance with those limits, in accordance with the risk appetite. Internal Audit, which reports to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors, serves as an additional layer of control and is independent from the front-line business and operational support areas and the risk management functions. They provide assurance to senior management and the Board of Directors as to the effectiveness of risk management programs, policies, processes, practices, and controls, as well as adherence to regulatory standards.

Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process

M&T's Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process ("CAP") is the governance structure through which the Company assesses its capital requirements in relation to the material risks facing the organization, as identified through the Enterprise Risk Management Framework. The CAP is intended to ensure that M&T holds sufficient capital relative to its risk profile to support its business activities under a range of conditions, including adverse economic environments.

The Company's assessment of capital adequacy incorporates enterprise-wide capital stress tests that assess potential post-stress capital requirements in relation to available capital resources, considering the comprehensive inventory of vulnerabilities and scenarios identified through the Enterprise Risk Management Framework. This approach considers material risks when assessing the capital needs stemming from potential exposures, whether on- or off-balance sheet. The CAP also incorporates explicit capital adequacy goals with respect to risk which inform the Company's capital management activities.

M&T's Capital Management Committee ("CMC") is the primary management body responsible for regular oversight of the CAP. The CMC proactively monitors M&T's prospective capital generation and capital requirements, as well as potential material risks facing the Company, leveraging the Enterprise Risk Management Framework. The CMC reports directly to M&T's Risk Committee of the Board of Directors, which is responsible for establishment of capital goals reflecting the organization's risk appetite and verifying that the Company's capital position considers material risks and is appropriate for its risk profile.

Regulatory Capital Ratios

M&T and its subsidiary banks are required to comply with applicable capital adequacy regulations established by the federal banking agencies. Among other matters, those capital standards: (i) include a capital measure called "Common Equity Tier 1" ("CET1") and a related regulatory capital ratio of CET1 to risk-weighted assets; (ii) specify that Tier 1 capital consists of CET1 and "Additional Tier 1 capital" instruments meeting certain revised requirements; and (iii) mandate that most deductions/adjustments to regulatory capital measures be made to CET1 and not to the other components of capital. Under the capital standards, for most banking organizations, including M&T, the most common form of Additional Tier 1 capital is non-cumulative perpetual preferred stock and the most common forms of Tier 2 capital are subordinated notes and a portion of the allowance for loan and lease losses, in each case, subject to the specific requirements of the capital standards.

Pursuant to the capital standards, the minimum capital ratios for a banking organization to be considered adequately capitalized are as follows:

- 4.5% CET1 to risk-weighted assets;
- 6.0% Tier 1 capital (that is, CET1 plus Additional Tier 1 capital) to risk-weighted assets;
- 8.0% Total capital (that is, Tier 1 capital plus Tier 2 capital) to risk-weighted assets; and
- 4.0% Tier 1 capital to average consolidated assets as reported in consolidated financial statements (known as the "leverage ratio").

In addition, capital regulations provide for the phase-in of a "capital conservation buffer" composed entirely of CET1 on top of these minimum risk-weighted asset ratios. When fully phased-in on January 1, 2019, the capital conservation buffer will be 2.5%. For 2016, the phased-in transition portion of that buffer is .625%.

As M&T's regulatory capital ratios exceed the minimum capital ratios plus the additional capital conservation buffer, the Company does not have any limitations on distributions and discretionary bonus payments resulting from the capital conservation buffer requirement.

A more detailed discussion of regulatory capital requirements is included in Part I of M&T’s Form 10-K under the headings “Capital Requirements” and “Limits on Undercapitalized Depository Institutions.”

Table 1 provides the regulatory capital ratios of the Company, M&T Bank and Wilmington Trust, N.A. as of June 30, 2016:

Table 1: Regulatory Capital Ratios
June 30, 2016

	M&amp;T (Consolidated)	M&amp;T Bank	Wilmington Trust, N.A.
Common equity Tier 1	11.01%	11.24%	74.53%
Tier 1 capital	12.29%	11.24%	74.53%
Total capital	14.72%	13.25%	75.20%
Tier 1 leverage	9.99%	9.14%	19.56%

Pursuant to the capital standards, non-advanced approaches banking organizations, including M&T, could make a one-time permanent election to exclude the effects of certain accumulated other comprehensive income or loss items reflected in shareholders’ equity under generally accepted accounting principles in the U.S. (“GAAP”). M&T made that election during the first quarter of 2015.

In compliance with the capital standards, the Company reviewed the aggregate amount of surplus capital of insurance subsidiaries included in the regulatory capital of the consolidated group and has determined that it was not material.

For further information on capital, refer to (i) Form 10-K in Part I, Item 1 under the heading “Stress Testing and Capital Plan Review,” Part II, Item 7 under the heading “Capital” and notes 10 and 23 of Notes to Financial Statements in Part II, Item 8 and (ii) Form 10-Q in Part I, Item 2 under the heading “Capital.”

Risk-weighted Assets

The capital standards also address asset risk weights that affect the denominator in banking institutions’ regulatory capital ratios. Under the capital standards, M&T is subject to the standardized approach for determination of risk-weighted assets associated with its on- and off-balance sheet exposures. Table 2 summarizes the Company’s standardized risk-weighted assets by certain categories, as defined in the capital standards.

Credit Risk General Disclosures

The Company employs a long-term strategy and credit risk philosophy that focuses on stable, proven and conservative underwriting criteria and active portfolio monitoring which is consistent with the Company's risk appetite. The process integrates transparent qualitative and quantitative factors in the decision-making process with credit scorecards and models to create a robust underwriting and risk management framework. Past due loan status is measured based on the number of days that contractually required principal or interest payments are delinquent.

Commercial Exposures

- The Company utilizes a committee approval structure for large commercial relationships.
- Approval decisions are not solely made centrally, but are supplemented by regional committees that enhance centrally assembled corporate best practices with in-market expertise. Using a mix of centralized and regional committees, the Company is able to retain credit consistency while applying geographic expertise.
- A centralized underwriting function provides for consistent application of underwriting standards, including debt service and loan-to-value ratios, and independence from the business line.
- The Company's risk rating consists of two measurements, a Probability of Default and a Loss Given Default. These measurements, which incorporate expectations for default and give consideration to collateral types and values, are used to differentiate risk within the portfolio and consider the expectation of default for each loan.

Once approved, loans are subject to a granular approach to portfolio management which assists in the early identification of asset quality issues.

- Extensive monthly and quarterly reporting for Executive Management and the Board of Directors.
  - Includes metrics such as portfolio size, industry concentrations, property type, delinquency, non-performing, charge-offs and risk rating distributions.
- Commercial Credit Quality Assurance (“CQA”) team is responsible to ensure basic safety and soundness of the commercial loan and commercial real estate loan portfolios. The team’s primary focus is the continuous monitoring, analysis, and general oversight of the commercial criticized asset portfolios to ensure these loans are properly risk-rated with appropriate accrual designation and timely recognition of charge-offs.

Consumer and Residential Real Estate Exposures

- Residential real estate loans are generally underwritten according to the standards set by the secondary markets, including Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.
- Consumer loan underwriting decisions are primarily based on Credit Score (FICO), Debt-to-Income, Revolving Debt-to-Income, Combined Loan-to-Value, Lien Position (Home Equity) and, when appropriate, Internal Custom Scorecards.
- The performance of the residential real estate loan and consumer loan portfolios is monitored very closely through a combination of reporting, feedback from the Customer Asset Management (collections) area, and management oversight. Reporting is varied and extensive, with reports being produced monthly or quarterly, including monthly dashboard reports that provide product performance metrics.

Further discussion of the credit quality of the loan portfolios is provided in M&T’s Form 10-K and Form 10-Q, as referenced in Appendix A.

Management determines the allowance for credit losses that is required for specific loan categories based on the relative risk characteristics of the loan portfolio. ## Counterparty Credit Risk

Although trading account activities represent less than 1% of the Company's total revenue and a very small component of its overall business, M&T maintains policies, controls and processes to manage its mark-to-market settlement and over-collateralization risks in conjunction with its entering into transactions with third parties. Outside of core lending activities, counterparty risk at M&T arises primarily from derivatives transactions with outside firms. The Company engages in those derivative transactions to meet the financial needs of customers who require interest rate swap or foreign exchange services. The Company generally mitigates the foreign exchange and interest rate risk associated with those customer activities by entering into offsetting positions with counterparties. The types and amounts of these activities are subject to a well-defined series of potential loss exposure limits established by management and approved by M&T's Board of Directors.

The Counterparty Risk Management group is responsible for a variety of risk management activities to control counterparty credit risk which include:

- Monitoring daily material changes in market-related metrics (stock price, public credit ratings and available credit default swap rates) of obligors.
- Daily monitoring of counterparty exposures by product.
- Compliance with Regulation F (restricts exposure to banks that are inadequately capitalized).
- Assigning internal risk ratings to each counterparty at relationship initiation and reassessing during annual or more frequent reviews.
- Reviewing all impaired securities (both individually and by investment category) regularly.
- Monitoring regularly the length of time that individual securities have been market-impaired (that is, where fair value is less than amortized cost).

In addition, the Company sets trading limits for credit facilities that it extends to qualified trading counterparties based upon an approved and validated historic Value-at-Risk methodology.

Credit Risk Mitigation

The Company utilizes a loan grading system which is applied to all commercial loans and commercial real estate loans. Loans with an elevated level of credit risk are classified as "criticized" and are subjected to additional scrutiny and review by credit personnel. The timing and extent of potential losses, considering collateral valuation and other factors, and the Company's potential courses of action are regularly reviewed. Because collateral is a fundamental mitigant for credit risk, to the extent that loans are collateral-dependent, they are evaluated based on the fair value of the loan's collateral as estimated at or near the financial statement date. The main types of collateral taken by the Company include real estate, cash, depreciable assets, accounts receivable, inventory and other business-related assets. Residential real estate loans and consumer loans are generally evaluated collectively after considering such factors as payment performance and recent loss experience and trends, which are mainly driven by current collateral values in the market place as well as the amount of loan defaults. Refer to Part II, Item 7 of Form 10-K and Part 1, Item 2 of Form 10-Q under the heading “Provision for Credit Losses” for further discussion on loan collateral, geographic distribution of loans and credit risk mitigation activities.

M&T utilizes legal agreements (primarily master netting agreements) that are established with counterparties to help reduce counterparty risk. Within a master netting agreement can be a Credit Support Annex, which establishes collateral posting rules for the counterparties to cover exposure in the agreement. A Credit Support Annex typically contains a few standard themes:

- Frequency of when collateral calls are made (typically daily).
- The minimum amount posted for new collateral calls (referred to as a minimum transfer amount).
- The type of collateral generally accepted by the Company which includes cash, U.S. Treasury securities and U.S. Agency securities. Other types of securities may be accepted, but only after consultation with Risk Management.

M&T’s Legal department reviews all counterparty derivative agreements before execution.

Securities purchased under agreements to resell and securities sold under agreements to repurchase (collectively known as repurchase agreements) are treated as collateralized financing transactions and are recorded at amounts equal to the cash or other consideration exchanged. These repurchase agreements are largely with bank or broker counterparties who also engage in derivatives trading with the Company. It is generally the Company’s policy to take possession of collateral pledged to secure agreements to resell to mitigate any credit risk associated with the transaction.

The Company does not hedge credit risk associated with lending, repurchase agreements or derivatives transactions beyond collateral requirements. Based on adherence to the Company’s credit standards and the presence of the netting and collateral provisions, including any necessary haircuts, the Company believes that the credit risk inherent in these derivative contracts was not material.

Securitizations

Refer to note 19 of Notes to Financial Statements in Form 10-K and note 11 of Notes to Financial Statements in Form 10-Q for discussion of the Company’s securitization activities. The Company has not recognized any losses as a result of having securitized assets.

The disclosures in this section refer to securitizations held and the regulatory capital related to these exposures calculated in accordance with regulatory capital standards. A participant in the securitization market is typically an originator, investor or sponsor. The Company’s primary securitization-related activity is investing in products created by third parties. The Company is not applying any credit risk mitigation to its securitization exposures and doesn't have exposure to nongovernment-related securitization guarantors. The Company does not have any synthetic securitization exposure.

In accordance with the capital standards, the Company utilizes the Simplified Supervisory Formula Approach ("SSFA") to determine risk-weighted assets for its securitization exposures, which considers the Company's seniority in the securitization structure and risk factors inherent in the underlying assets.

The Company's investments in third party securitizations at June 30, 2016 are presented in Table 9.

Equities Not Subject To Market Risk Rule

Management of M&T's investment activities generally resides within the Company's Treasury Division. The Treasury Investment Policy, approved by M&T's Board of Directors, aligns with M&T's RAS and outlines the governance framework, operational guidelines, decision-making process, and investment criteria for all discretionary investment securities of the Company.

The Company had total equity exposures of approximately $1.4 billion at June 30, 2016 that consisted predominantly of Bank Owned Life Insurance (“BOLI”) separate accounts ($485 million), tax-advantaged investments ($279 million) consisting largely of investments in qualified affordable housing projects, stock of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York ($302 million) and the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York ($168 million), investments in mutual funds ($51 million) and preferred stock issued by government-sponsored entities ($27 million). The Company uses the simple risk-weight approach for its individual equity securities, the alternative modified look-through approach for BOLI assets held in separate accounts and the full look-through approach for investments in mutual funds. These assets are reviewed for creditworthiness and evaluated regularly for impairment.

Nonpublic equities are generally recorded either at cost or using the equity method. Details of the Company’s accounting policies for investment securities and the valuation of financial instruments are provided in note 1 of Notes to Financial Statements in Form 10-K.

Marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale and carried at fair value with net unrealized gains or losses reported within other comprehensive income (loss) in shareholders’ equity. For regulatory capital purposes, net unrealized gains or losses recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income are predominantly excluded from CET1 and Tier 1 Capital, as the Company elected to “opt-out” of the option to reflect Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income in these metrics.

Equity in mutual funds maintained in the trading account are reported at fair value. Changes in fair value are recorded in trading account and foreign exchange gains in the Company’s consolidated statement of income. At June 30, 2016, the Company does not have material equity exposure in the trading account.

There were no significant realized gains or losses arising from the sales or liquidations of equity securities for the quarter ended June 30, 2016.

Table 10 summarizes the Company’s equities not subject to the market risk rule.
